REMARKS.

THE most prominent and important Item in the foregoing Exhibit, is the TOWN DEBT : on which subject, the Treasurer begs leave to make a few remarks.

In the year 1826, the amount of the Debt was 27,600 doll's. The amount now, is 56,455 dolls : it having more than doubled within the last seven years, and being an average annual increase of nearly 4200 dolls! Shall we suffer this to go onward, or shall we endeavor to take steps to arrest its progress? No one can hesitate for an answer.

In every increasing community, the current Expenditures, must necessarily keep pace with their Accommodations and Improvements, and these, will always be sufficiently pressing on the Resources of a Town, even should the Individual, or aggregate cumulation, which must bear the assessments, be in a ratio with its increasing Population. The necessity therefore is obvious, of preventing, if possible, the increase of our Municipal Debt. As the town have not now, or in prospect, any available property (with the exception of the Income of the Market House) it follows that no other means can be adopted, for the reduction, or extinguishment of the Debt, than a resort sooner or later, to the usual mode of taxation. To do this at once, or by large sums would be impracticable or oppressive. There is however, one method suggests itself, by which this, in time might perhaps be accomplished, without the Citizens hardly perceiving it. Let the Town raise every year one or two thousand dollars, which might be placed in Trust in the Mass. Life Ins. Office, and the Interest added to the Principal. One thousand dollars, raised annually, and placed on Interest, at four and one half per cent. per annum, would extinguish the whole Debt in about 28 years. Two thousand dollars, raised annually, would accomplish it in 18 years. During this time it is true, the Town must annually raise as it now does, the Interest on the existing Debt: but it is apprehended, that these might be placed on a better footing. It is supposed that the Town could hire the whole amount of the Debt, for so long a Period, as either before mentioned, of some Public Institution, or elsewhere, at the rate of 4 1-2, per cent. This would of course abate part of the annual interest necessary to be raised and would be the means of condensing the Debt to one or two sums.

Of the present Debt, an Interest of 6 per cent. is paid, on 10,350, dls. of which sum $1200 is due to the Trustees of the Schools, and the remainder, to others, for Eleemosenary purposes. It is probable that the Principal of this may never be wanted: but if this can be obtained on better terms, we see no reason, (viewed as a fiscal saving to ourselves,) why every Institution should not take charge of its own funds. Should the Town, however, prefer to let this remain on its present footing, and continue to raise the Interest thereon, of six per cent, (which to be sure, is laudable for its benevolent object,) it would of course lessen the amount to be borrowed. The Balance of the Town Debt [$45,605], is due to about twenty Individuals, bearing generally an Interest of five per cent.

It is assumed that an interest of 4 1-2 per cent. would arise on the Investment in trust: but there is every probability, it would be more: in which latter case, a less time would be required to reach the necessary amount.

For 3 years—from 1818 to 1826, the sum of $3000 was annually raised, which together with the Rents of the Market House, was carried on as a Sinking Fund, and operated as was expected to lessen the Debt, from about $75,000 to $27,600 but the Town being then, on that system, creditor only to itself, so far as related to the Sinking Fund—the capital accumulated so fast, and the Interest thereon to be raised, increased so much, that it became extremely burdensome, and was therefore abandoned. If however sums, from time, to time, could be safely placed, as before proposed the accumulation of the Interest, would be drawn from other sources, and would have no effect on the citizens of the Town. If the Loan, as proposed could not be made, or the Town should not see fit to procure it, the permanent provision for a sinking fund might still be carried into operation, which would in due time conquer the Debt. Should the future exigences of the Town require another Debt to be created, it would not interfere with the arrangement above proposed.

The Town for three or four years passed, has raised the sum of $1000 each year for a sinking fund: which has thus far, merely paid off so much of the previous debt, but which if funded, and continued, as doubtless it is intended to be, would eventually effect the object; this however, will fall under the difficulty before mentioned of pressing hard in its progressive accumulation, more particularly when the expenses of the previous year, (which happens very often) have gone beyond the appropriations, and must be provided for in the succeeding year. It is also frequently difficult to procure a Town Note that is due at the time the Money is received into the Treasury, in which the $1000 can be invested: and the present year, as will be seen by the statement, the Money has been all drawn out of the Treasury, so that no investment could be made.

Connected with this is another circumstance which may not be passed over. The first of March is certainly the most proper time, to close the Treasurer's accounts: but it will be perceived, that on closing the accounts for the fiscal years; little or no balance remains in the Treasury, to meet the Interest Money falling due, and the current expences. The consequence is, that more than three fourths of the ensuing Tax must be anticipated by borrowing; thereby creating a great increase of Interest money. This cannot perhaps be altogether avoided: but if the time fixed for the payment of the Tax, should be on the first of September, instead of the first of November, as is now the case—this may afford a little relief, by bringing some portion of the Tax earlier into the Treasury; and it is presumed, that it could be paid by the Citizens, with less inconvenience, than the time now fixed.

It is hoped, that the Treasurer will not be deemed to have travelled out of his Province in making these remarks. They are submitted with diffidence, merely as suggestions, for enquiry and deliberate consideration, and if the proposed, or any more feasible plan can be adopted, by which the Debt can be diminished or discharged, every one must be impressed, that it would much contribute to the present and future prosperity of the Town.

Charlestown, March 1st. 1833.
